

Proportion of wind power in total power generation

Statistics show a steady increase in terms of the percentage of global electricity that comes from wind, which more than trebled in a decade between 2011 (2.04%) and 2021 (6.72%).

Wind power is a significant contributor to global electricity generation, accounting for nearly 8% of total electricity generation worldwide in 2023. This growth is attributed to the use of wind ...

Wind supplies 57% of Denmark's electricity generation and over 20% in ten other countries. 7 Global wind additions reached a record 117 GW in 2023. 7 In 2024, onshore installations surpassed 100 GW ...

The United States is the second-largest producer of wind ...

Share of wind power in electricity generation and consumption. The world's installed wind power capacity now meets well over 10% of global electricity demand - and much more than nuclear ...

The chart below shows the percentage of global electricity production that comes from nuclear or renewable energy, such as solar, wind, hydropower, wind and tidal, and some biomass.

In 2019, wind power surpassed hydroelectric power as the largest renewable energy source in the U.S. In March and April of 2024, electricity generation from wind exceeded generation from coal, once the ...

The United States is the second-largest producer of wind power, and generated 341.40 TWh of wind power in 2021, equal to just over 21% of total global production. Together, China and the United ...

In 2022, wind turbines were the source of about 10.3% of total U.S. utility-scale electricity generation. Utility scale includes facilities with at least one megawatt (1,000 kilowatts) of electricity ...

This dataset contains yearly electricity generation, capacity, emissions, import and demand data for over 200 geographies. You can find more about Ember's methodology in this ...

Wind energy was the source of about 10% of total U.S. utility-scale electricity generation and accounted for 48% of the electricity generation from renewable sources in 2023. Wind turbines ...
